Re: Priya Bhattacharya

I am writing in support of Priya Bhattacharya’s application to the MSc in Urban Systems. I taught her in the second year GIS sequence and supervised her Honours field project.

What stands out is her patience with messy data. Her field project on transport accessibility in the eastern districts involved six weeks of survey work and a long overdue clean-up of the municipal bus stop registry. She presented the results to the city transport office, and they are still using her maps.

Priya is also a generous colleague. She ran the department’s peer mapping clinic for two years and trained nine first year students in field survey practice.

She is well prepared for graduate study in urban systems.

Yours sincerely,
